Million Men Now Serving In France, Asquith Says

LIBERTY OF SERBIA TO BE UPHOLD

Allies in Agreement, He Says, to Check Teuton Coalition

Head of Government Is Responsible for Dardanelles Attempt

LONDON, Nov. 2, 1:48 p. m.—Sir Frederick Edward Smith, who has been solicitor general, has been appointed to succeed Sir Edward Carson as attorney general. Premier Asquith announced today.

LONDON, Nov. 2, 4:11 p. m.—In his address before the House of Commons this afternoon Premier Asquith stated that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces on the Franco-Belgian front, was now in command of nearly one million men.

He asserted the Germans had not made a net gain of a foot of ground since April.

The premier accepted his full share of the responsibility for the first attack on the Dardanelles, which resulted in failure with the loss of several capital ships. He said this attack was made after full investigation and consultation with naval experts, and that it was sanctioned by the government, notwithstanding some doubts in the mind of the government's principal naval adviser.

Reviewing the work of British submarines in the Turkish campaign, the premier said that in the Sea of Marmora they had sunk or damaged two battleships, five gunboats, one torpedo boat, eight transports and 137 supply ships.

Asquith said there was full agreement between Great Britain and France to maintain the independence of Serbia and not let her "become the prey of the sinister and nefarious combination of Germany, Austria and Bulgaria."

The announcement was made by Premier Asquith that former Premier Venizelos of Greece, who has been the voice of intervention in the war on the side of the entente allies led to his resignation, asked France and Great Britain on September 21, for 150,000 men, with the express understanding that Greece would mobilize.

SACRIFICES NECESSARY. The premier asserted the financial situation of Great Britain was serious and that the nation must be prepared to make far better sacrifices than it had made in the past, to sustain the burden imposed by the war.

Asquith asserted he was as confident as ever that the allies were going to carry the war through to a triumphant issue, and he was not going to shift the burden from his shoulders until satisfied he was unable to bear it. He would not surrender the task as long as he enjoyed the confidence of the king and the country.

NOT PENITENT, HE SAID. Premier Asquith prefaced his remarks concerning the war by saying he would disavow many expectations, not the least of these being that of those who thought he ought to appear as a criminal or a penitent in a white sheet. However, he did not propose to adopt either attitude. He intended to describe as far as possible the actual prospective position of the nation which "is as determined today as it has ever been to prosecute the war to a successful conclusion and which trusts its government, whomsoever controlled, to do every means to the attainment of that purpose." He continued:

"It is true that today some parts of the horizon are overcast. This like other wars, has been fruitful of surprises and disappointments. The moment calls for three things: A proper sense of perspective; a limitless stock of patience and overflowing reservoir of courage, both active and passive."

Asquith referred to the "small coteries of professional whippersnappers, which kept our enemies supplied"

Business Envoy to Represent Oakland

Planning a trade fair in South America and the West Indies, the industrial bureau of the Chamber of Commerce has completed plans for sending Charles B. Camm, formerly with the foreign trade bureau of the Standard Oil Company, and one of the foremost trade experts in the world to these places as a special representative of Oakland county manufacturers.

Camm will tour the South American republics and the Indies, setting before the business men of these places the advantages of Oakland's manufactures. His primary object is to build up business relations with the countries that the manufacturers may better utilize the Oakland harbor as a shipping point and reach for the new trade avenue opened by the war. He will start on his trip within a few weeks.

Japanese Baron To Discuss Peace Believes U. S. Will Take First Step in Move

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 2.—Baron Shibusawa, one of the wealthy and influential business men of Japan, is here on his way to the States to ascertain what are the possibilities for peace in the European war in which Japan is a party.

The baron was welcomed here at the Chamber of Commerce by the Japanese merchants of Honolulu. In a speech at the Country Club he said that one object of his visit to America is to consult with the leaders of the probable peace negotiations, believing that the initiative in such negotiations is coming from the United States.

Baron Shibusawa said that he desired to get their opinions as to what steps America will take and what will be expected from Japan. When the time comes, he said, they will find Japan ready to meet terms having world friendship as their basis.

SUFFRAGE IS BEFORE N. Y. VOTERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Woman's Political Union and the Woman's Suffrage party, which shared control of the arrangements of the suffragists to watch today's election, issued to their watchers at the polls today the following list of "don'ts":

"Don't bubble with exuberance at the polling places; be merely pleasant.

"Don't wear fluffly ruffles, make yourself small; most polling places are limited in space.

"Don't ask the inspectors to sharpen your pencils; do your own work.

"Don't jog the chair of the inspector.

"Don't talk, but keep your eyes and ears open.

"Don't regard yourself as an exception and important.

"Be dignified; be serious. Don't argue with anyone."

Anna Howard Shaw, president of the Woman's Suffrage Association, will observe the election tonight at national headquarters here. She will get the returns from all three states where votes for women is up for decision.

Miss Shaw came to headquarters last night. She was cheerful and optimistic.

Some 6000 women suffragettes arose long before daylight and when morning broke on duty in every election district of New York City as watchers. Proposed changes in the constitution were the only statewide issues before the voters of New York today. A new constitution was submitted for popular approval.

DETECTIVES GUARD POLLS. DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 2.—To insure honest voting in today's election in Detroit on the municipal and railway question, an organization known as the Honest Election League placed detectives in every precinct. More than $7000 in rewards has been offered by various interests for the apprehension of illegal voters.

PERFECT WEATHER. DETROIT, Nov. 2.—Perfect weather prevailed in Pennsylvania today's election. Woman suffragists who continued their oratorical campaign up to midnight last night, were on guard at polling places.

PHILADELPHIA. Democratic majority contest is on. The principal candidates are Thomas B. Smith, Republican, George D. Porter, Independent or Franklin party, and G. Gordon Bromley, Democrat.

FRANCHISE FOR WOMEN. BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Indian summer weather aided the political party managers today and the rush of the polls in the early hours gave promise of an unusually large vote in the state election. It was generally predicted that the race between Governor-elect, Democrat, seeking re-election, and his Republican opponent, former Congressman Samuel W. McCall, would be close.

Interest on the voting on the woman's suffrage amendment to the constitution was keen.

Returns from the first nine towns reported on today's election gave McCall (Republican), for governor, 1107; Walsh (Democrat), 560; woman suffrage, ayes, 504; no, 1105.

FIGHT FOR GOVERNOR. BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—Ideal autumn weather prevailed throughout Maryland for today's election. Interest centered in the contest for the governorship.

BOLOGNA, Italy, Nov. 1, via Paris. Nov. 2.—Prince von Buelow, reported to have been sent to Switzerland by the German government to initiate peace negotiations, will remain at Lucerne three or four weeks, says the Bern correspondent of the Resto del Carlino, to collaborate with Monsignor Marchetti, papal delegate to Switzerland, in drawing up peace proposals, which Pope Benedict could submit to the entente powers.

The Resto del Carlino asserts the pontiff himself is now engaged in combining the most promising features of various projects for mediation which hitherto have been suggested into one precise and definite plan. The paper revives the report that the pope will seek to induce President Wilson to act simultaneously with him in intervention for peace.

POPE SEEMED ADVERSE. By Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 2.—Agent the persistent reports that Austria and Germany are about to initiate peace negotiations, the Rome correspondent of the Daily News, attributing his information to a "trustworthy source," telegraphs:

"The Pope is determined not to support any initiative toward peace obviously inspired by the Austro-Germans unless assured there is a possibility that the allies are favorable to a consideration of proposals. Switzerland also is determined to abstain from any peace negotiations which are foredoomed to failure."

SWISS PRESS DEPRESSED. GENEVA, via Paris, Nov. 2.—The Swiss press is commenting extensively on the visit of Prince von Buelow to Switzerland. Although it is stated that the Prince has come to Switzerland merely for a holiday, the Basel Nachrichten asserts he is accompanied by two high officials of the German foreign office.

It is known here that Prince von Buelow will shortly meet Monsignor Marchetti, papal delegate to Switzerland.

Geneva newspapers state the movement for peace negotiations has been carried to such a point that the meeting place of the proposed peace conference is now under discussion. They are probably the oddest prisoner ever placed behind the bars in an Alameda county jail. Railroad Junction in Serbia Is Conquered

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 2, 3:45 p. m.—Cacak, an important railroad junction point in Serbia about thirty miles to the southwest of Kragujevac, has been occupied by the Serbian forces. It was officially announced today.

Besides the occupation of Cacak German army headquarters announced today that a pass through the heights to the south of Milanovac into the western Morava Valley had been conquered. It was also announced that the heights south of Kragujevac had been taken. The Bulgarian army under General Boyadjeff is making progress through the Nizava valley.

Leon N. Long, sophomore in the College of Letters at the University of California, confessed burglar at 19, is probably the oddest prisoner ever placed behind the bars in an Alameda county jail. MOTHER FINDS BABE; DROPS CHARGE

Little Vera Lucile Will Be With Parent Within Few Hours

Child Is Found in Stockton; Long Search Is Brought to Close

One woman's heart will be gladdened, another's will be saddened, and after an absence of a year Vera Lucile Campbell, aged 3, will once again be pressed to her mother's bosom today, thus terminating the possibility of a sensational kidnapping charge which Mrs. Marjorie Campbell threatened to place against Mrs. Vivian Grace of Oakland. The mother of the latter, Mrs. J. Little of 655 Thirty-third avenue, this city, is expected to return to Oakland today from Stockton, where she went to get the babe from her daughter, Mrs. Grace, and return it to the mother.

The trials and tribulations of bright-eyed Vera Lucile have been many. Today's re-union of mother and babe will mark the end of a search lasting a year. Her husband claimed by death and being penniless, Mrs. Campbell, a resident of San Diego, placed her two-year-old daughter, Vera Lucile, in the Children's Home of that city.

Mrs. Vivian Grace, a resident at that time of San Diego, saw death stalk into her household and claim first her husband, then her only child, a little girl. One day she visited the Children's Home. She spotted Vera Lucile Grace. The little girl brought back memories of her little girl. Mrs. Grace inquired as to the parentage of pretty Vera Lucile. She met the mother and gained her consent to take the child home with her. Then it was that life began anew for Mrs. Grace. The babe learned to talk and walk, to call her "mama." A breach had been filled that the mother's aching heart had yearned for.

PROVIDES A CHRISTMAS. The taking of Lucile from the orphanage to the Grace home was on December 15, last. On Christmas day the mother of the child, her arms laden with toys for her girl, knocked at the Grace door. Since that time Mrs. Campbell continued the search as best she could. Last week she gained information that Mrs. Grace was residing in Oakland, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Little. Coming here, she was informed that Mrs. Grace had gone to Stockton with the little girl. Securing the services of Attorney Edward Gehring, she took up the hunt with renewed activity. Attorney Gehring rushed to Stockton last night, intent on securing a warrant of arrest should he locate Mrs. Grace and not obtain the babe from her. Knowing that her daughter had means no wrong and would do the right thing, Mrs. Little also went to Stockton, informing her sister, who resides with her, that should Mrs. Campbell again return the sister should inform her that she could look forward to having the babe before nightfall this day.

The mother now awaits the arrival of Vera Lucile.

Resta Wins Harkness Cup Automobile Race

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Dario Resta, in a Peugeot, won the 100-mile automobile race for the Harkness gold challenge cup at Sheepshead Bay today. His time was 56:35.51 and his average speed per hour was 105.39 miles. This beats the American record.

Six drivers, the Californian field, started in their cars in the 100-mile automobile race for the Harkness gold challenge trophy and a purse at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway today. The start was made at 3 p. m.

Resta led when the fifty-mile mark was turned. His time was 28:24.53 and his speed average 105.39 miles an hour. Mulford was then second and Burman third. De Palma retired from the race because of a broken connecting rod on the twentieth lap.

Atkinson led the first ten miles of the race and was then forced to stop because of a broken connecting rod.

RETIRES TO PLAN NEW DRIVE

General Funston Takes Command of U. S. Border Forces

Fields Near Besieged City Are Strewn With Dead

By Associated Press. DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Sharp machine gun fire began at 12 o'clock. The Villa gunners were sweeping the center of Agua Prieta from positions on the east.

Major James A. Ryan, Thirteenth Cavalry, received a report that thirty-five women and children had been killed in Agua Prieta and thirty-five women and children wounded.

Sergeant Walter Mays and Private Mitchell, Company I, Seventh Regiment Infantry, were wounded in a trench west of the United States customs house shortly before noon. Mays was wounded in the right hand and Mitchell in the left leg, probably by the same bullet.

Two warnings were sent today to General Calles by American army officers shortly after two American soldiers were wounded.

Sharp machine gun firing which began at noon ceased in a few minutes and a desultory artillery exchange which followed practically had stopped by 1 o'clock, the hour supposedly fixed for Villa's general attack today to begin.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 2.—General Funston arrived at 7:45 a. m. today to assume command of the American forces here. At that hour firing had ceased on the Mexican battlefield.

After four desperate attacks on Agua Prieta, which kept the Carranza defenses blazing practically all night with flashing guns and bursting shells, General Francisco Villa drew off shortly after daylight today.

General P. Elias Calles, commanding the Carranza garrison, reported the Villa forces in retreat, but at 7:36 his big Schneider-Galet guns reopened a bombardment on the Mexican town opposite here.

Losses of the Carranza garrison were reported by General Calles as 45 killed and 75 wounded, although official reports stated his casualties were 250. Villa dead and wounded in large numbers strewn the desert around the battered wire barricades of the Mexican town.

The battle continued practically without intermission from yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock until 6 o'clock this morning, when a final rush by his Yaqui Indians about 8 o'clock. Calles replied with every weapon in his garrison.

Douglas trembled under the vibrations of the continuous crashes and concussion. Bullets from the Mexican side rained upon the American town, from the United States army private army officers who with their men guarded the battered wire barricades of the Mexican town.

The United States customs house, which was fired on by a Villa machine gun platform yesterday when Louis F. Taylor was shot in the back, was again peppered by Mexican bullets. Its roof and porches were perforated in many places.

The American trenches were heavily sprinkled with bullets also. Brattons of the continuous fire. Eleventh Infantry was hit while guarding a company wagon near the American army field hospital. Jones was hit in the stomach and probably fatally wounded.

Tank Company D, Eleventh Infantry, was struck in the legs by a bullet that fell into a section of the trench a few feet from the customs house.

U. S. GUNS SILENT. No more news of the United States army detachments to return the fire.

Observers on the American side reported Villa's troops had drawn off, not in retreat but to prepare water.

Their cantenens were empty and many had not tasted food for 24 hours.

BOY FOUND TO AUTO MYSTERY

Author of Injured Boy Said to Have Taken Him Away.

The unidentified boy who was last seen after an automobile accident on the highway near the city of Berkeley, was taken from the scene of the accident by a father, according to W. H. Russell, 4155 Broadway, Oakland, who was an eyewitness to the tragedy. Russell told his story to Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris today, partially clearing away the mystery which surrounds the accident.

According to Russell, the car which ran over the boy was a 1914 Buick. The state automobile license book shows that this number was issued to John E. Roberts, a real estate man of 110 Vista avenue, this city. No one could be found at the Roberts home during the investigation.

Russell was motoring last Sunday and as on the scene of an accident when a machine came together near Santa Rita. He was one of the crowd of spectators who gathered about the dispirited occupants of the two machines, who were slightly injured in the collision.

"Another machine drove up while we were listening to the arguments of the driver of the car," Russell said. "A man, woman and boy were in the car. The boy, who was about 7 or 8 years of age, with brown hair, and dressed in a blue knickerbocker suit, jumped from the car to an immediate stop and rushed the car in front of it. He stopped in front of a car coming from Pleasanton, with a man and woman in the front seat. It was a five-passenger gray with the number 52425.

hours or more, according to some soldiers and officers who approached the border. Villa still intends to take Agua Prieta, they declared. Some of them were served with water yesterday by civilians at Douglas slaughter house west of the city, but were stopped when Calles made a protest.

Mines exploded by Calles west of Agua Prieta killed 300 Yaquis, according to reports from the Mexican government.

One Mexican woman refugee among the throng at the customs house during the machine gun fusillade yesterday lost a finger by a bullet. Twenty-three hundred refugees were concentrated at a camp at Pinalville, a suburb of Douglas. They were practically without water last night. Dr. J. J. P. Armstrong, Calles' chief surgeon, declared this was due to dilatoriness of American officials. The refugees were without light and last night food supplies were scant until today.

Daybreak showed that little damage to the defenses of Agua Prieta had been done in last night's battle. The barbed wire entanglements with the exception of one gap about 20 feet deep appeared intact, while the earthworks showed little effect of the rain of shells poured upon them all night.

The town, however, showed many damaged buildings, and the list of dead and wounded was a heavy one. After the last heavy bombardment the Villa forces, which at one point had approached to within a few hundred yards of the wire entanglements, fell back about a mile and began entrenching. The right flank of the Villa forces rested squarely on the boundary fence at a point about 300 yards from the slaughter house.

Villa's soldiers were still apparently without food or water, but expressed grim determination to force their way into Agua Prieta, no matter at what cost.

In the serious attempt made last night to break through the wire entanglements Villa's losses on the east were comparatively small, notwithstanding the terrific fire to which they were subjected.

NEW ATTACK PLANNED. Intermittent firing commenced again at daybreak from Agua Prieta, but with the exception of a few scattered shots, evidently to correct ranges, the Villa artillery made no reply. During the night the fire from the Villa side was confined to the big guns, the infantry wasting no ammunition. General Villa sent about 300 cavalry eastward to the pass near Niggerhead mountain early this morning to bring up supplies of ammunition for his big guns under escort of 4000 reinforcements, which Villa leaders this morning said should arrive by noon.

Another attempt will be made to storm Agua Prieta during the afternoon. This time they said: "We are going; we will be in Agua Prieta by tonight."

Firing practically ceased shortly before 9 o'clock and for some time after that only occasional shots came from the Calles trenches. Villa's soldiers not replying.

EIGHT ARE WOUNDED. Eight persons on the American side of the boundary were wounded as a result of the fighting between Carranza and Villa troops at Agua Prieta.

U. S. Must Assume Protectorate Only Solution, Barrows Declares

Starving Villistas Add Difficulties

Barrows' statements on the belief that Mexico will never have a stable government until the United States has it under the same control that our government now exercises over Cuba, in the state of a semi-protectorate, Professor David P. Barrows of the University of California today criticized the latest policy of President Wilson with regard to the Mexican situation. Professor Barrows said:

"The present attitude of the United States in recognizing the Carranza government is presumably dictated by the wish of President Wilson contained in his proclamation that he hoped for the speedy establishment of a constitutional government and the holding of a fair election. "A constitutional government in Mexico cannot be brought about under the present election customs and practices in Mexico. The people do not have any idea of what a square election is. They are just like the people of Cuba before the last intervention of the United States, which required the presence of our troops for a period of two years."

PLAIN AMERICAN DUTY. "The United States will have to hold the election under the supervision of its troops if it is to be a fair one. After that it will be necessary to give the Mexicans a whole administrative code in regard to elections and suffrage, and back up the whole for a considerable length of time with force."

"Villa has a large following in Mexico, and long after his cause yesterday and last night, according to reports received early today."

THE WOUNDED. LOUIS F. TAYLOR, restaurant employee, struck in spine; paralyzed.

CORPORAL J. E. JONES, Company G, Seventh Infantry; shot through both thighs.

OLIVE Y. WHIDDON, private Company A, Seventh Infantry; hit in stomach, probably fatally wounded.

HARRY JONES, private Company C, Eleventh Infantry; struck in stomach, probably fatally wounded.

JAMES TANK, private Company D, Eleventh Infantry; wounded in leg.

MEXICAN WOMAN; lost a finger.

Taylor was at the United States customs house during the fighting yesterday afternoon and was struck as he turned to run for cover. The fusillade of bullets endangered a throng of American soldiers, Mexican women and children gathered there. Whiddon was struck while on guard at the railroad station several blocks from the border. H. K. Jones was standing in front of his home on Seventh street when hit by a stray bullet.

PRESIDENT VOTES. Associated Press. PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2.—For the third time within a few weeks President Wilson returned home today to vote. He cast his ballot in an effort to help restore the New Jersey legislature to the Democratic column and to elect Democrats to local offices.

The President arrived in Princeton shortly after noon and was met at the station by a small group of students and professors. In contrast to his last visit here, there was no cheering by the students.

The President, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his physician, and a guard of secret service men walked to the polling place in an old fire house. There the President received a ballot, scanned it carefully, walked into a booth draped with an American flag and marked it.

After voting the President walked about Princeton campus and then went back to his private car and had lunch. He will arrive in Washington early tonight.

White Uniforms! 'Nothing Doing'

Dental Examiners Are Turned Down by State

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2.—The state board of control today turned down one of the strongest requests it ever has received, when it refused to allow the state board of dental examiners to purchase—with state money—white duck uniforms to be worn by the board during practical examinations.

Recently the dental examiners conceived the idea that the fourteen persons, including the members of the board, should be in uniform while holding "practical examinations," so a request was sent to the board of control to allow the expenditure of money sufficient to purchase the fourteen white duck suits.

The board of control, which is the board of control was something like this: "Nothing doing."

The dental examiners consist of the following: C. E. Rice, president, Los Angeles; C. A. Herrick, secretary, San Francisco; J. M. Blodgett, Los Angeles; L. D. Jones, San Diego; F. H. Houck, Anaheim; L. T. Corwin, Piedmont; A. E. Hackett, San Francisco.

The "Know How" of Cookery

is the result of long experience and study. For years, expert cooks have been converting the inner meats of choice Indian Corn into delicious, golden-brown crisp—Post Toasties

A constant endeavor to make Toasties better has produced the

which have a new flavor and form—a true corn flavor and tender crispness unknown to "corn flakes" of the past.

The new process raises tiny pearl-like "puffs on each flake—a distinguishing feature; also imparts substantial form—the new Toasties don't mush down when cream or milk is added.

They come factory-fresh in wax-sealed packages—as crisp and appetizing as when they leave the ovens—and that's mighty good.

Allied Victory May Win Rumanian Help

Associated Press. MILAN, Nov. 1, via Paris, 5:45 a. m.—Two weeks of Bulgarian action in Serbia has brought about a change in Rumanian public opinion which sixteen months of intervention propaganda failed to effect. Filipescu, leader of the Rumanian conservatives, is said by the Bucharest correspondent of the Corriere della Sera to have declared in an interview.

The Corriere della Sera correspondent expresses the belief that rapid and successful action by the allies in the Balkans cannot fail to bring about the entry of Rumania into the war on their side.

GREECE ALSO CHANGES. LONDON, Nov. 2, 11 a. m.—In official circles an attitude more favorable to the entente allies apparently has been assumed. Reuters' correspondent at Athens telegraphs that simultaneously with the official denial of reports of Greece's hostility toward the entente powers came a change in tone of the ministerial press which is now publishing articles in favor of the allies. These articles presumably are inspired.

Notwithstanding the drift of opinion, it is maintained that the neutrality of Greece will be adhered to as long as possible.

SPAIN HAS NO WORD OF PLAN FOR PEACE. Associated Press. MADRID, Nov. 2, via Paris.—Premier Dato has said he has no official information concerning the report that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, would come to Madrid to present to King Alfonso an outline of conditions on which Germany might be willing to consider peace negotiations.

The Overseas News Agency of Berlin made denial yesterday of the report that Prince von Buelow had been entrusted with preparations of peace negotiations.

OAKLANDERS WRITE SONG. "San Francisco, Queen of Cities," is the latest Exposition ode to be published. It is a song by two Oakland women, Mrs. Martha Newland, of 670 Lakeshore avenue, composed the words, while the music is by Mrs. Violet Wheeler, of 830 Oak Street. William L'Heureux, Oaklander, will render it at the Orpheum this evening.

Home Wrecked in Tsing Tau Siege

Mrs. Willis Peck Here for Yuletide Peace

Any one who returns from abroad these days and hasn't been through a siege, under fire, or at least detained as a spy, seems undisturbed, an unimportant person not worth hostile consideration.

However, Mrs. Willis Peck, just arrived from the Orient, is quite in the fashion. Her more so. Her home in Tsing Tau, province of Kuo-Chow, China, has been bombarded, struck by shells and partially wrecked.

Miss Ethel Handley, who will attend the Oakland assembly dance at the Exposition.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are expressing sympathy for the death of their baby daughter, Patricia Ann Lawrence, which occurred yesterday at their home in Piedmont.

Messages of condolence were sent today by Oakland friends to Cheyenne, where the wedding of Paymaster Spencer E. Dickinson, U. S. N., formerly of Oakland, and Miss Letitia Shaw Thompson will take place at St. Mark's church.

Miss Edith Goodfellow has set December 7 as the date of her wedding to Mr. Leon De Freeman. It will be one of the most important of the year but simple in its details.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eassey gave a dinner at their home in Grand View Terrace, Berkeley, a few evenings ago, for Senator and Mrs. C. H. Hardin of Los Angeles.

The Oakland Assembly dance at Ebell Club on Saturday evening will be attended by 200 of the young set, and on Saturday, November 13, the members will enjoy a dance in the Ebell building.

A number of Mrs. Clinton Walker's friends attended the lecture on art given this morning by Mrs. Mary Hanson Ford at the Walker home in Piedmont.

Several guests from Oakland and Berkeley were among those who greeted Madame Paul Ritter, wife of the Swiss minister to the United States at a large luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. William Bailey Lamar at the Hotel Hamilton.

The wedding of Miss Myrtle Fishbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Fishbeck, to Mr. Marshall Hopper, will take place on the evening of November 24 at the home of the bride's parents in Gilbert street.

The first of the Winter Assembly dances will be given on Wednesday evening, December 23, at the Hotel Oakland. Several hundred of the younger set have reserved for the assemblies, of which there will be three this winter.

SUNDAY HEADACHES

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

ATING ought to be a pleasure if it is not there is something wrong. When the headache comes, it is a warning of a physical condition.

Athletes can eat and assimilate more food than persons who fail to take physical exercise. Moreover, they derive greater joy and pleasure from their food.

This is a statement which is based upon facts. Recent scientific experiments substantiate it. Observation under the most exact conditions has proven beyond doubt that persons who eat and assimilate or digest with comfort at least 7 per cent more food than non-athletes.

"I always have headaches on Sunday," remarked a woman the other day. Her case is like that of many other women, and men also, who take less exercise and eat more food on Sunday than any day in the week.

Do not be troubled with Sunday headaches. You can "let down" from the week's strenuous work and rest without sinking into lethargy or coma.

Keep your mind active and get plenty of fresh air and exercise. You can do all this without violating the convictions of the most exacting.

Do not save your appetite for Sunday dinners and, if you are trying to digest, make the amount of food you consume proportionate to the exercise you take.

A great many women, especially of the working classes, make Sunday their hardest day in the week. They lay up their little washing of dainty collars and cuffs until Sunday.

HANFORD'S THIRD WIFE IS TYPIST

MATRIMONIAL VENTURE IS SECRET

Capitalist's Wife Home From East; Dodges All Inquiries

Newlyweds Will Live in Russian Hill Mansion

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—R. G. Hanford, financial wizard and marrying man, has married again. This third matrimonial alliance had been kept a profound secret even from many of Hanford's most intimate acquaintances, and his young bride returned to San Francisco to visit her mother.

The present Mrs. Hanford was a stenographer in the office of Hanford and W. S. Tevis, previous to the marriage, which is understood to have taken place in the east. She was Miss Helen Maud McCann, a young woman of unusual beauty.

After the honeymoon Hanford remained in the east to conclude business engagements, and Mrs. Hanford returned to San Francisco to await his return. When it is expected they will occupy their home on Russian hill, which has been secured for them by Hanford.

At the home of her mother, Mrs. Ellen Hanford, at 545 Seventh avenue, Mrs. Hanford said last night that she and Hanford's bride, but refused to tell the particulars of the wedding until she had her husband's permission to speak.

Hanford secured a divorce from his last wife about a year ago in New York. She was the widow of the late John G. Hanford, a well-known banker and financier. Hanford's divorce was granted in 1913 made it possible for her to marry Hanford.

MARRIAGE LICENSE HANDED BACK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Dawn Flavel and Hans Sieper flew close to the flame of matrimony yesterday, but escaped.

The girl is 18 years old and lives at 2735 California street. Sieper is a year or two her senior and lives at the Hotel Irwin, 108 Fourth street.

In the flush of the morning they decided that they would get married. He told her she didn't dare, and Dawn said she was as brave as he.

HUBBY, SHOTS, SLEUTH—ROW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Thomas J. Burns pistol in hand, stood concealed for several hours yesterday behind a revolving bed in the apartments of his wife, Mrs. Lily Burns.

In company with Detectives Ernest Gable and William Maguire, Mrs. Burns was taken to the police station, where she was held for a short time.

Burns is housekeeper in the Glasgow apartments, Turk and Larkin streets, where the affair took place. She swore to a complaint against her husband in which she charged her husband with threatening her life.

CHICAGO FRESH AIR CAR EXPERIMENT NO SUCCESS

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—The experiment of President Wood of the elevated roads of Chicago in running a fresh-air car was tried yesterday with doubtful results.

The trouble was with the passengers who failed to note the sign on the car which was attached to the last car of the train. Air was permitted to enter the car by removing the glass panels over the windows.

How To Make The Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Much Better Than The Ready-Made Cough Syrup. Fully Guaranteed.

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and certainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colds, is really remarkable.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you—44 a cost of only 64 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.50.

Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. Tastes good and never spoils.

You will be pleasantly surprised how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in glycerol, which is so healing to the membranes of the throat.

LULU GLASER, FIRST WIFE OF RALPH HERTZ, WHO SAYS "I TOLD YOU SO."

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—"I told you so" so remarks Lulu Glaser. She said her divorced husband would be in the divorce court once more if he ever married again.

There was a shot. The bullet whizzed by Glaser's head and struck the wall. The detective grappled with Burns, but before Maguire could come to his assistance, Burns had been shot.

Burns was subdued and taken to the city prison, charged with assault to murder.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RED BERRY

(By HOWARD R. GARIS.)

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzey, the muskrat lady who kept house for Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, stood looking in through the open doorway of the rabbit hole in the hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Nurse Jane. "I can't seem to make it look pretty as I like. You know, I've been thinking of it for a long time."

"What is it you are speaking of, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzey?" politely asked the rabbit gentleman. "I don't know, but I think you have a most beautiful green silk ribbon on it."

"No, it isn't my tail. I am speaking of the red berry. I have lost the red berry. I can't seem to make it look pretty as I like. You know, I've been thinking of it for a long time."

"It appears all right to me," Uncle Wiggily said with a little laugh, as he looked at a picture of a lilypond plinking tail with a snowball. "But it seems to me, Nurse Jane, that the piano has scratched one of its legs. Don't you think you had better look at it?"

"Oh, Wiggily! Will you be serious?" asked the muskrat lady, as she put some of the end of her tail over her shoulder. "I don't know, but I think you have a most beautiful green silk ribbon on it."

"No, it isn't my tail. I am speaking of the red berry. I have lost the red berry. I can't seem to make it look pretty as I like. You know, I've been thinking of it for a long time."

CHILD CHRISTENS AEROPLANE. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Eight-year-old Olive Whitman, daughter of Governor Whitman, today christened with a bottle of champagne the new hydroaeroplane presented to the naval militia of the State of New York by Glenn H. Curtiss through the National Aeroplane Fund.

TOWN AND GOWN. The Galleries of the Exposition are to be analyzed during the coming months for the benefit of Town and Gown Club members by Eugen Neubauer, assistant professor of decorative design at the University of California. There will be a series of lectures on this popular subject beginning next Monday afternoon.

ON CITIZEN'S DUTIES. The second Town and Gown meeting this month will be on November 22 when Dr. Carleton H. Parker, assistant professor of industrial economy at the University of California, will talk on "The Citizen's Duty of the City and the Citizen." The meeting will be assisted by Mrs. H. F. Jackson, the chairman of the day, who will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Carleton H. Parker.

PIEDMONT CIVIC CLUB. The Piedmont Civic Club members will hear an illustrated lecture on the "Philosophy of Business" just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH. Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are unvarnished, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH. The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil, medicinally perfected with glycerol and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised.

THE DANGER OF INDISCRIMINATE SIGNING OF PETITIONS.

The case with which people sign petitions has long been a subject of jest. There are a number of historic examples of practical jokes played by wags on the unsuspecting petition-signing populace. The most famous case is that of the Legislature of West Virginia, one of whose members secured the signature of every law-maker of that august body to a petition, nearly hidden in the body of which was a provision whereby each and all were deprived of their positions and salary and given over to the watch of the petitioners. The desire to be obliging, the impulse not to say no to any request so easily complied with as signing one's name, is responsible for the success of the people who circulate petitions.

It is probably correct to say that nine-tenths of the people who sign the usual petition do so under a misapprehension or with an imperfect comprehension of all the issues and factors involved. The man who circulates the petition soon learns how to use some phrase, either half true or wholly untrue, that appeals to the popular prejudice. It is not remarkable, therefore, that at the last session of the Legislature a law was passed making it unlawful for persons circulating a referendum or recall petition to make any misrepresentation whatsoever.

How reasonable such an act is in its essentials must be clear to anyone who considers that the signing of referendum and recall petitions is a legislative act. Members of the National Congress, of the State Legislature or the county administrative bodies would be very justly chargeable with dereliction of duty should they vote in favor of or against important measures without giving time and thought to their understanding and to the weighing of their merits. A private individual is not less chargeable with misconduct than a citizen if he signs a referendum or recall petition without due consideration, since in signing he is acting precisely in the same capacity as his duly elected representative—viz: as a maker of laws or ordinances. He is just as much a legislator as if he sat in a national, state or county legislative assembly. It should be very clear that all the wellheads of justice and equity are polluted at their source if a legislative act, which a referendum or recall petition essentially is, is obtained through misrepresentation or the suppression of essential facts. No corrupt lobbying in legislative halls could possibly have any more vicious influence upon legislative acts than wholesale misrepresentation engaged in by the circulators of a legislative act in the form of a petition.

The recent activity of the county officials in endeavoring to purge the activities of circulators of petitions of their fraud and misrepresentation through the arrest, under the law above referred to, of persons making false statements as to the petitions by them circulated, is heartily to be commended. In view of this law, which applies equally to those who circulate and those who sign referendum and recall petitions, providing imprisonment or fine for violations, it behooves the electors to exercise care in affixing their signatures to any such document—in fact, the same care that electors should expect in action upon any matter from their legislative officers.

THE POSEUR IN COLLEGE.

Fortunately the estimate of Leon N. Long, University of California sophomore, under arrest on the charge of burglary, of the standard of living which should be maintained by college students is not that of the sincere, conscientious seeker after knowledge. It is the perverted idea of the poseur, the misguided youth who joyed in exhibiting himself to his fellow students as a dandy and a "sartorial confection." Student Long received $30 monthly allowance from home. His college expenses were $25, which left him $5 a month for spending money, and he says it was a simple matter that he should take up burglary as a side profession to add to his spending money.

This viewpoint is peculiarly out of place in an educational institution where hundreds of youths and co-eds are working their way through college in various occupations, some of them engaged in the service of the menial; yet all in a measure glorified, and certainly dignified, through being a means to the achievement of individual student ambitions. There are hundreds of students who have no allowance whatever and thousands whose allowances do not include "five dollars spending money." From this class of students the world expects to see produced men and women of big achievements and moral capacities.

It seems unfortunate that habits such as marked student Long, even if financed honestly, should be tolerated in a democratic American university—of the West. It is only fair to say that perhaps this is an isolated case, and that the university administration is entirely blameless. We believe the students themselves are in a measure responsible for such departures from modest, decent standards of conduct. The boy or girl who places such high value upon personal appearance and costume as to distinctly set him or her apart from the rest of the student body should not be encouraged, and, if possible, not tolerated. Student Long should be a lesson to those now attending colleges under any idea but that of obtaining the very best the institution has to bestow upon them at the smallest expense and with the least ostentatiousness. Getting down to the meat of the question, it is not absolutely necessary that a student have five dollars' spending money over his necessary itemized college expenses, and that boy who cannot get along on five dollars a month might better withdraw from the university.

VALUE OF MILITARY SCHOOLS.

Under the Land Grant College Law, enacted through the efforts of the late Senator Morrill of Vermont and popularly known as the "Morrill Law," some one hundred educational institutions in the United States provide military training for their students with the direction and assistance of the War Department. About sixty of these institutions are degree-granting colleges and thirty others are preparatory schools of about high school standard. Military work consists of a few weeks' instruction, confined usually to members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, and lectures on military topics by the officer in charge to seniors. The War Department lends equipment and details officers of the army to act as professors of military science and tactics.

At about thirty-five of the schools and colleges the students live a life and are subject to discipline approximating that at West Point. Thus a considerable number of American young men are given a taste of military instruction and discipline at an age when they are most receptive. There is no doubt that they carry with them through life a beneficial measure of the disciplinary effects of their school military training. They are equipped temperamentally to meet many of the requirements of ordinary business life in a way altogether lacking in the graduate from that educational institution where military discipline is not included in the curriculum.

Quite a number of these youths ultimately find their way into the army through the West Point Military Academy or by appointment from civil life. If Congress enacts a law providing for a large reserve or Continental force—and these projects are certain to come up in Congress this winter—serious consideration should be given to the question of introducing military instruction into hundreds of others of our preparatory schools and colleges. In a few years we would have a large body of college educated men with a noteworthy amount of military training. It would comprise the groundwork of a much needed corps of reserve officers to draw upon in case it should become necessary to organize a great volunteer army for the active defense of the nation.

GOOD WORK.

The United States Naval Training Station on Goat Island furnishes one of the most interesting of governmental activities. Captain Philip Andrews, who commands the training station, is an experienced and industrious officer, who not only conducts with admirable judgment and distinguished success the training school for boys who are about to become seamen on our naval vessels, but administers as well all of the varied naval business which comes to the harbor of San Francisco. The naval training school is one of the most attractive places in the vicinity of Oakland to visit and one of the most profitable.

There can be seen daily in practical working order one of the most efficient systems for the education of young men which has been devised. It inculcates discipline and obedience to hygienic rules as well as instruction in the rudiments of seamanship, gunnery and other things appertaining to life on a man-of-war. Captain Andrews has high standards and high ideals and he tries to infuse some clear understanding of them into the minds and spirits of the young men who come under his direction. In other words, he is turning out men and self-respecting American citizens as well as sailors.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court, delivered in Washington yesterday, nullifying the Arizona state anti-alien labor law, reasserted one of the fundamental principles of the American Constitution—equal protection under the laws. Mr. Justice Hughes said it had already been decided that aliens in this country are entitled to equal protection under the laws and that this means equal laws for the aliens. The Arizona law sought to set up an entirely different principle, providing that no less than 80 per cent qualified electors and American citizens be employed in an establishment of more than five workmen. The court found this a law against giving aliens work, since the percentage permitted might be arbitrarily changed if the principle was sustained, and that refusal to give work is equivalent to denying the opportunity of an honest living and equal protection under the laws. Lawyers are unable to say definitely that this decision will affect the recent anti-alien legislation in California, but since the Supreme Court has pointedly said that the Federal Government has reserved to itself the exclusive authority to regulate the admission of aliens into the nation, it is pointed out that there is a question as to whether the several states have authority to discriminate against them after their admission.

Colonel Samuel Reber of the Signal Corps, who has been brought as a witness into the court-martial at San Francisco in reference to army aviation at the San Diego school, is one of the sterling and admirable officers of the service. Had it not been for his youth he would have been appointed brigadier general a few years ago and would have been at the head of the Signal Service Corps today. He is a man of untiring energy, good executive ability and is very much up-to-date. He has striven for years to make the aviation service what it ought to be. He knows what its shortcomings are and it is not his fault, but the fault of Congress, that aviation in the United States Army has dropped so far behind work of this kind in the European armies. Colonel Reber is a man of the highest character, every inch a soldier, and what he says on the witness stand may be regarded as a finality so far as the truth of any statement he makes is concerned.

PREPAREDNESS IN FLYING VITAL IN WARFARE

It is all very well for those who do not fly, and for those who have no intention of flying, to look with a detached air of curiosity at the wonderful work of the aeroplane. But what every one of us should understand is that the aeroplane is the latest instrument of war, and as such it symbolizes a department of the government's activity, in which neither pains nor money should be spared to attain to perfection such as will insure the supremacy of America in the air. The intelligent citizen should have a tremendous interest in the development of national aeronautics as a whole, and the reason for this is the fact that it is the taxpayer who must find the money for that development.

to demand the setting aside of an adequate sum of money by the Congress which is soon to convene.

Unless the public takes up the matter in all seriousness we are likely to have to be content with much less than what is actually needed. Just as there is small purpose in locking the stable door after the horse is stolen, so it is a waste of breath to ask for money after the appropriations have been made. Now is the time when the public should make it clear that a substantial appropriation for aeronautics is necessary. If Americans are content to be passively unconcerned as to whether the nation is or is not adequately equipped for aerial reconnaissance and combat, then the chances of bringing this country on a level of equality with the other great powers is remote, indeed. The average American is only beginning to realize what has been done abroad—by France and by Germany in particular. He still regards fliers as a set of peculiar people, who are strangely willing to risk breaking their necks, it has certainly not

THE GREEN BRIGADE: AN ARMY OF PEACE.

Where is the war? Where is the war? From the early days of peace, and peace, and peace, we have to do brave Grenadiers of Corn? Pearls of the dew are on your hair, And the green of youth is on your air, And the hill promises waiting tonight.

Oh, away and steady be on, Never a faltering line, Forward! I follow and try to know Work of your counterpane. Mark the spots of the trust and eagerly watch your plan, Linger with troops of gold, they run Down to your outpost man.

Steady, good lads, go bravely on By the parking hills of pain, An armor of abuse ye soon may don And meet the allies of rain, And right in the to-morrow hours will sing Praise of the march ye made, And into your pockets good gold will bring, Men of the Green Brigade.

Yea, and upon September's field, When the long campaign is done, With arms up-stacked, your hearts will yield, Coruscant of rain and sun: The pennants and plumes will then be here, Your pearls delight no more, But tents of plenty will bless the year, Brave Grenadiers of Corn. —Michael Earls, in St. Nicholas.

NOTABLE PERSONS.

Captain John Barneson has lived in San Mateo for many years. So, when he entered the voting booth at the last election and it was found he was not properly registered the election officers said: "Aw, we all know Captain Barneson; he's all right. Let him vote." And he voted.

Yesterday his vote came to the attention of County Clerk Nash, who has referred it to the district attorney. Now the famous yachtsman is threatened with prosecution.

Winema, the most picturesque of the Mammoth Hot Springs women, fell from the falls yesterday to attend "Oregon day" celebration at the exposition in San Francisco. It was Winema who acted as interpreter for the peace commission at the time of the massacre in the lava beds during the Modoc war.

The London board of trade has awarded a piece of plate to Captain William Finch, commander of the White Star line steamer Arabic, in recognition of his exemplary conduct when his vessel was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off Fastnet last August.

That a Republican President and a Republican Congress will be elected in 1916 was the opinion expressed yesterday by Congressman Frank P. Woods of the Tenth Iowa district at the Palace hotel in an interview on the national political situation.

Victor Murdoch, former Congressman from Kansas and chairman of the National Progressive Committee, will go to Europe as a war correspondent. He will report the war for his own paper in Wichita, sailing for France about the middle of November.

James Featherstone, 101 years old, died Sunday in San Francisco. He passed 100 years in good health, but two years ago fell and sustained a broken hip. Since then he had been an invalid.

A Suffrage Yell.

East side children of New York recently greeted the suffragists who came down to hold street meetings in that part of the city with a novel yell which went: Strawberry shortcake, Huckleberry pie, V-I-o-l-e-t-o-r-y, As we go to it? Well I guess, Votes for women, Yes, yes, yes.

Notable "Possum Dog." Serjeant J. H. H. of the 10th Cavalry, who has a few friends and his faithful old possum dog Bob, went possum hunting Wednesday night and in a little less than four hours treed and captured seven possums, five of which were as fine specimens of these famous midnight marauders as were ever seen in these parts. Speaking of the hunt Mr. Brown said there was no telling how many possums they would have caught if Old Bob had four good legs like most possum dogs have. "What dog, you know?" said he. "Being a hound, had the misfortune to get shot the past summer and had to have one of his hind legs amputated." If there is another three-legged dog in the county with a better record than this he is yet to be heard from. In the meantime the championship, so far as three-legged dogs are concerned, remains with Old Bob. Anderson (S. C.) Mail.

Makeshift for Hemp. The Hamburg Nachrichten reports that experiments are now being made in the spinning and weaving works at Hamburg with a view of finding a substitute for Indian hemp, and it is believed that this has been discovered in the meadow rose (epilegium). A farmer some years ago mended a dilapidated roof with some reed-like wild plants, and when removing this covering recently he found that a fibrous substance came away from the old stalks. The fibre, it is said, proved but little inferior in strength to hemp, and hopes are entertained that by cultivation a fibre will be obtained equaling Indian hemp. Even in its present state, supplies are said to be available to meet the needs of the German jute industry for this year. School children are being employed to collect supplies of the substitute.

The altering of some requisitions has involved Mayor Davies, City Attorney Pierson and City Expert Kaufman in dispute. City Attorney Pierson says that the mayor had no right to alter any requisition and such is the nature of altering a public record and renders Kaufman, whom Pierson says made the charges liable to prosecution.

Fruit Crops.

The year's record grape shipments are still keeping up, yesterday 115 cars of grapes leaving for the Eastern and Middle Western markets, an increase of 50 cars over 1914. The grape shipments for the year have reached a record mark. The total number of cars shipped is 8025 1/2, against 7747 on the same date last year, an increase of 278 1/2 cars for 1915. This is said to be above the shipments of all other years.

Grapes and plums made California's record this year, more than making up the loss in peaches and pears. The total fruit shipments, up to closing hour yesterday afternoon, were 1034 cars greater than in 1914, itself a record.

Cherry shipments were good this year, with an increase over 1914 of 39 1/2 cars, and apricots set a new high mark at 57 1/2 cars.—Sacramento Union.

Bird Got Away.

Charley Bailey, who has patiently fished in bad luck along the longitudinal dyke for the past weeks, did himself of the fish yesterday and safely landed a 25-pound beauty, after a short tussle. The wind of the past two days had chased the trolling anglers to cover, but Bailey was one of those who stayed on the job and used bait. He caught his prize with a clam. A smaller one, weighed about 7 pounds. He lost another fish, when he was twice as big as his 25-pounder, which is, to say the least, a pretty good-sized bird.—Vallejo Times.

THRONES ATTEND S. F. DAY EXPOSITION IS MECCA FOR MULTITUDE

Numerous Diversions, Spectacular or Sportive, Amuse Assembled Thousands.

Crowds that broke all records thronged the direct ferry and transbay boats today, when Oakland and other Alameda county centers sent to the Exposition its greatest delegation, assisting San Francisco in celebrating the crowning event of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Commercial organizations, fraternal orders and east bay citizens at large united in this pilgrimage to the festival of a sister city. Representatives from the chamber of commerce, officials of cities and the county, business and professional men and organized labor representatives all joined in the big trip.

Special features marked the big day at the fair, and the promised "300,000" attendance of the San Francisco commercial organizations was made certain, according to turnstile estimates, early in the day.

The morning feature was the great pageant, one of the most lavish spectacles ever presented at the fair. All California joined in making the parade a success.

The first ferry boat from this side of the bay crossed at 9 o'clock, bearing a great vanguard of Alameda county celebrities. Sausalito, Richmond, Tiburon all sent large crowds by boat.

THE GREAT PROCESSION.

The parade started shortly after 10:30 o'clock, the procession being a moving pageant depicting the nations and states represented at the Exposition. Along avenues lined with humanity it wended its way, while the cheering crowds greeted the different features and nations as they passed in review.

Along the Avenue of Palms to the Massachusetts building, and finally disbanded at the Van Ness avenue entrance. Immediately after the parade the featured race between Captain Charles Steele's "Barnacle No. 2" and Charles Niles' aeroplane took place in the harbor. The morning was packed for this event.

At 12:30 o'clock the world's light harness races started at the race track. For one man to have seen the entire program of special features at the Exposition today would have been impossible, even though he had been ubiquitous, for a dozen special events were proceeding simultaneously, and new events were staged constantly. Alameda county, for instance, at the last minute sent over the Native Sons' band, which gave a concert in the Alameda county section of the California building.

SEALS CELEBRATE PENNANT.

Baseball fans gathered at the marina to see the Coast league pennant presented to the Seals, winners of the coast series. Rugby football, American football and other games continued throughout the afternoon at the Seals' grounds, and light fireworks were an added attraction.

The race track was the scene of a great sham battle. While the crowds watched the soldiers and marines on patrol duty, in camp, and in scouting operations, Charles Niles in his aeroplane was heard overhead. Suddenly a bomb dropped and a rattle of rifle fire marked the opening of the battle. Mortars sent shells high in the air, sailors in cutters hurried ashore in relief detachments, and a graphic representation of a real battle thrilled the crowds.

The athletic events following the football games on the marina were notable. The full athletic program follows:

100-yard race—F. S. Murray, Stanford University; H. Ross, a Merriman, Humboldt Evening High School; J. L. Marjor, Lowell High School; J. Ryne, A. Newhoff, R. Nolan, Olympic Club; J. T. Ore, J. E. Tracy, L. Carroll, F. Galtoux, J. Gould, W. Johnson, A. Lindstrom, J. McKittick, Caledonian Club; C. W. Castle, G. W. Clark, W. E. Bowen, University of California.

150-yard race—F. S. Murray, Stanford University; B. McLaren, Cogswell High School; William Glass, Humboldt Evening High School; V. Vassavilich, Lowell High School; D. W. Knapp, J. Pyne, Olympic Club; F. Galtoux, J. Gould, W. Johnson, J. Kennedy, V. Merriman, Caledonian Club; W. Kistner, W. Wright, W. Wolongewicz, William Ralmer, University of California.

High school relay race—Oakland, Mission, Humboldt, Berkeley, Polytechnic, Commerce, Cogswell and two teams from Lowell.

ACTOR MUST STAR IN COURT WIFE SEEKING HER ALIMONY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Theodore Roberts, theatrical star, who is now starring in moving pictures, was brought into court yesterday by Mrs. Lucy Roberts to be questioned about his financial resources.

The purpose was to discover property upon which Mrs. Roberts can levy to force payment of a judgment for alimony rendered against Roberts in New York and to avoid paying which, it is said, he became a prominent member of the alimony club in the Ludlow-street jail in New York.

Roberts was ordered by the New York court to pay $50 per week alimony. Mrs. Roberts said he didn't do it.

In speaking of his financial resources, Roberts said he had none. Neither has he property, a bank account, nor a safe deposit box.

Once he owned a bungalow, but he sold it. That was a year and a half ago, and as he only paid $89.50 for the bungalow when it was new he said he didn't get very much for it when he sold it. The building was a portable affair which he used to dress in.

He was questioned by Attorney Isaac Paoli for Mrs. Roberts. "Did you ever give Miss Florence Smythe any property?" the attorney asked.

"No," the actor replied. "Where do you bank?" "I don't bank."

"Where do you get your daily check for $18.95?" "Any place I can."

"Any one got any money or property that belongs to you?" "Not that I know of."

"Have you got a bungalow?" "No, I had one, but I sold it."

"How big was it?" "As big as you can get for $69.50."

The attorney concluded the examination here and said he would seek information through other channels.

An officer of the film company was called to testify about the salary paid Roberts and when the attorneys for Mrs. Roberts were unable to draw from him any statement showing the money he received more than $18.95 per day, Judge York dismissed the proceedings.

Roberts, it was asserted, draws his salary in advance each day so that the company owes him nothing and there is nothing to attach.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A complete and thorough investigation of the oil business of the United States is being made by the Federal Trade Commission, according to an announcement made today by the commission. It states that the investigation was begun in response to resolutions passed by the Senate which were introduced by Senators Owens and Gore of Oklahoma.

In its statement the commission sets forth that many complaints have been received as to conditions in various branches of the oil industry. The statement says that the commission already has sent out agents to investigate charges of price discrimination in the sale of gasoline in various parts of the country.

"Recently there have been numerous complaints filed with the commission, alleging discrimination between localities in the sale of gasoline," said the announcement.

Other complaints have been received from California, Georgia, Idaho, Missouri, and other states.

"These recent complaints alleging price discrimination between localities in the sale of gasoline have led the commission to determine whether the alleged conditions are prevalent in the United States at large and whether it will be desirable to take up that subject for immediate investigation."

"The commission has received complaints from persons engaged in producing oil from wells, from companies engaged in buying and transporting crude oil, from oil refiners, from oil jobbers, from retailers and from consumers. Some of the complaints allege unfair practices by former subsidiary companies of the Standard Oil Company; others are directed against various of the so-called independents. These complaints come from all parts of the country and are often of a conflicting nature."

ORDERS CLUB WOMEN OUT OF COURT

Many Come to Hear the Case Against Mrs. Couch Told to Go.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 2.—Despite indignant protests and demands that they be permitted to remain in the courtroom to see the justice done, women of the cause, society women and members of prominent San Jose women's clubs were ordered from the police court yesterday, when a large crowd of social leaders attempted to be present at the hearing of the case of Mrs. C. M. Couch, charged with a statutory offense. The woman, former proprietress of a hotel here, was held to answer on testimony of Miss Helen Maylay of San Francisco.

The society women, who had followed the case at the time of the woman's arrest, gathered in large crowds, thronging the police court building, when Police Judge Thomas Dougherty called the case. Mrs. Couch insisted on her right to a hearing behind closed doors, which the law permits in a case of this kind. The society women, who were openly hostile to her, but curious to hear the testimony, were ordered out.

They waited in crowds before the doors of the courtroom until informed that the accused woman was held for trial without reduction of the $10,000 bail set. Miss Maylay stated that she was sold to Mrs. Couch for $50 by a man known as Tim Carr. The girl testified at length as to the life she had led in Mrs. Couch's hotel. Several other witnesses were also heard.

Nine Square Miles Of Land Mislead

Government Officials Investigate Search

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Nine square miles of public land have disappeared.

Land office officials are searching high and low for it. Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell heard a long contest and upon the testimony of several witnesses decided that the land, somewhere in the vicinity of Goff's, San Bernardino county, is mineral in character and that the Southern Pacific must give it back. The General Land Office approved the decision.

The question now is where is the land? In the hearing it was decided as sections Nos. 1, 3, 9, 13, 17, 21, 25, 29 and 33 of township 11 north, range 11 east, San Bernardino meridian. But investigation shows that isn't the land in dispute.

A number of different government surveys since 1855 in that part of San Bernardino county have created a maze of contradictions, and now the railroad cannot give back the land until somebody finds it.

COUNCILMAN JACKSON IS BETTER

Operation May Not Be Necessary, Say Attending Physicians.

Physicians in attendance at the bedside of Dr. F. F. Jackson, commissioner of public health and safety, announced that his condition was somewhat improved.

An operation may not be necessary. Dr. Jackson passed a painful night, but was able to rest this morning for a short time. It is at the Merritt Hospital.

It was feared last night that Dr. Jackson was suffering from peritonitis, following upon the severe attack of pneumonia poisoning which has confined him to his home for almost two weeks.

A hurried consultation of physicians was held. Dr. E. R. Rixford of San Francisco and L. F. Herrick, R. H. Higgins, A. J. Remmel, O. D. Hamilton and William Jackson, a brother of the commissioner, being summoned.

Dr. Jackson was stricken with pneumonia poisoning two weeks ago, and was forced to leave a session of the council to go to his home. His condition became rapidly worse, but after ten days he was able to leave his bed. Saturday and Sunday he was out for a short time for an airing. Sunday night his condition became worse and his temperature was dangerously high. A further relapse alarmed his family yesterday and he was removed to the Merritt Hospital.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Rev. O. L. Russell, pastor of the Broadway Methodist Church of this city, and three other occupants of an automobile, faced death when the car took a short down a steep mountain grade eight miles east of Chico.

When the brakes on the car failed to respond, Russell turned the car against a bank which prevented it going over a fifty-foot cliff.

The car was going with great speed and when it struck the bank of the cliff all occupants were thrown out. Rev. Russell received several deep gashes about the hands and body. The other occupants, George Dugger, Ray Britton and Algor Russell, escaped with only slight scratches.

The automobile was considerably damaged and put out of commission. The occupants were compelled to walk to Chico.

BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA

Berkeley's Police Lead Is Followed in Many Cities

COLLEGE COURSES FOR MAN ON BEAT

New York, Chicago and Other Places Take Up Plan of Chief Vollmer.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—The dream which Police Chief August Vollmer of Berkeley long ago dreamed, of making Berkeley the place of police work of new and sane ideals and using it as an object lesson for police departments throughout the country, is coming true. Not only has he achieved the first part of his task, but he has now taken the first step toward the second, by having his plan adopted by other cities.

Chief Vollmer's plan for accepting the assistance which the University of California faculty members were only too willing to give is being followed in New York, Chicago, and many other places where the police departments are in touch with colleges. In these places it has just been announced that the plan will be adopted.

COLLEGE DEGREES FOR "COPIERS"

Out of the curricula of universities, the Chief Vollmer of Berkeley has chosen a number of things he believes policemen ought to know. His ideas, already put into effect in large measure in his own department, are being recognized in other cities as well. Here are some of them:

Instruct policemen how to administer first aid to injured persons and care for them until the hospitals are reached.

Instruct policemen in the rudiments of criminal law and with regard to their rights in making arrests, etc.

Instruct police and detective officers in the rudiments of psychology, the bases of crime and in modern crime theories, making them capable of analyzing the mental processes of arrested persons.

Instruct detectives in chemistry to a sufficient degree to understand the action of poisons and other materials with which their work has to do.

Organize the young men of the city into a corps of police assistants and disburse their minds of the customary fear of the police.

Abolish now and forever the "theory of police work."

SIGNS SAD LAY; THEN TAKES LIFE

"Farewell," Cries Aged Man, "That Word Has Broken Hearts."

NEW YORK FOLLOWS.

Police Commissioner Woods of New York, after studying the Berkeley methods, has secured the services of psychologists from Columbia University, who will give regular lectures to the men of the metropolitan department. Chicago's department has called upon both the University of Chicago and Northwestern University for similar assistance. Berkeley's plan, which the professors of the University of Washington will co-operate with its department in several lines of work.

Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions or poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the system. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. May, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles by the use of this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. May's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction. —Advertisement.

Pete Tavas Confident He Can
Beat Clever Johnny Arrousey

Pete Tavas, West Oakland challenger for the Bay city lightweight championship, is highly confident that he can dispose of Johnny Arrousey, the Los Angeles sensation, tomorrow night when they meet in the main event bout of the West Oakland club. Tavas believes that he will beat Arrousey.

"I may find it hard work," he says, "but I will beat him just the same."

Pete bases his belief on the fact that he saw Arrousey in action on three occasions, once when he fought Willie Byrne and twice in San Francisco.

"Why, those punches which Arrousey lands cannot break an egg," avers the West Oakland champ. "I give him credit for being the cleverest boy I have laid my eyes on, but he can't go through four rounds of hard fighting on cleaver alone. Against Byrne, he showed that he could not take a punch."

Pete believes he possesses a glass jaw. The cloud which Byrne landed was a real one, not accidental, and I think that I can keep on top of Arrousey and not allow him to work his left hand. If I can keep on top of him as I did Jimmy Ford, he won't be able to work his straight jabs. I will have my work cut out for me on tomorrow night. I'm going to mix matters right at the start and Arrousey will either have to stand up and fight or jump through the ropes. If he stands up and mixes with me, I will be returned the victor tomorrow night."

Arrousey arrived last night from Los Angeles, accompanied by his manager, and is in excellent condition. He will go through a short workout at the Association club, San Francisco, tomorrow. Arrousey does not believe in training for the four round bouts. In fact, he states that he has never trained for any short tangles since he has been in the game. Tavas boxed three hard rounds with Lee Johnson, the former old-time featherweight who is acting as his trainer and showed to advantage.

The featherweight class will be represented by Tony Freitas and Frankie Barrow who will meet in a return match. Freitas was winning his last match up to the time that he lost his head and forgot that he was in the ring, and the fans are so worked up over the peculiar finish that they will look in large numbers on tomorrow night to give the pair another "once over."

The real sensational bouts of the evening should be provided by Kid Smiley and Jimmy West and Kid Taylor and a whirlwind bout while it lasted at the Wheelmen club last week, while Smiley and West are two of the most willing boys in the local game, slugging and slam-bang milling being their specialty.

The rest of the card is made up of bouts between Jimmy Marzulli, West Oakland's champion bantamweight, and Danny Edwards, a clever colored bantam. The two are a sterling bout, a few months ago, the tangle being called a draw. Three other preliminary tangles will complete the card. The West Oakland club reports a heavy advance sale of tickets for tomorrow's affair and Simpson states that the house may be sold out before the show is staged.

HOPPE BREAKS OWN RECORD. HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 2.—In his match at the Red Star Billiard Academy with Ron Yamada today, Willie Hoppe broke his own world record, running out the string of 490 of 14.2 billiards on his opening shot, the previous record being 417 for the first shot, made in Paris in 1911 against Cue.

'LET 'EM JUMP,' SAYS ELLIOTT OF
DISGRUNTLED OAKSOakland Pilot Not Worrying
Over Stories That Feds
Have Been Busy.

(By "BILLY FITZ") Elliott's answer to the stories of wholesale desertion from the Oakland club, reports that Jimmy Johnston has signed with the Newark Feds, that Jack Ness, Clinton Prough and Ray Middleton are also on the verge of turning out, and that some of the Oakland players are in the same old stuff every year.

Rowdy, "You all know how it is," says Elliott, "the boys' contracts as liberal as any in the league. I don't think I don't need to worry a bit about whether the boys jump or not. I don't think they will, but if they do, we can fill the places easily enough."

Elliott denied that Johnston's contract for 1916 called for a $500 reduction, though he admitted that the star outfielder would have to stand for a cut just as the others have done.

Middleton, Prough and Johnston were all very dissatisfied over the documents offered them the day after the season closed, and they withheld their signatures. Litch, since going to Los Angeles, has signed himself to the club. Manager Elliott has a swell head, and says, of course, is having his argument with the Chicago White Sox rather than with the Oakland club.

Despite the fact that Clinton Prough, the big Oak right hander, is plainly disgusted with baseball and finished the season in a very displeased manner, Manager Elliott thinks that Prough is going to be the Oakland club's leading mound man next year, that is, if he leaves to play baseball for the local club next season.

Prough's case this year was much like Jack Killian's two years before. He was perhaps the real hard luck pitcher of the year and couldn't win. Whenever Clinton would pitch a five hit game, the rival slabsman would come through and dish up four hit batters.

Elliott tried to chase the links which have pursued Prough all year. He even went as far as putting Prough in the box whenever the opposing pitcher looked like he was going to come through with a win, the other twirler would pitch a wonderful game. The Oaks would shut out the opposition and Prough was in the box this year. That alone is enough to disgust any pitcher.

Hard times has caused President Powers of the Los Angeles club to seek a playing manager for next year, southern reports state. Dillon seems to be through as far as manager of the Angels is concerned. He was placed at the helm of one of the best tobacco league clubs that money could buy this spring and yet couldn't even finish in second place. His powers is after a playing manager and such men as Ivan Howard, Bill Rodgers, Walter Boles and Harry Walters, it is hinted, are in line for the job.

The

Experts Say: "Asphalt-Base"

Engineers of both Packard and Ford organizations, Lieutenant Bryan, a Government expert, and other authorities, declare that motor oil made from Western crude gives best results.

The majority of Pacific Coast motorists have known this for years. They are using Zerolene in preference to any other oil because they have found it highest in lubricating efficiency.

But the crude can't do it all. Standard refining methods—the result of more than forty years experience—are largely responsible for the superior lubrication Zerolene gives your motor.

Zerolene—made from asphalt-base, selected California petroleum—won highest competitive awards at both Expositions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The sensibilities of M. Johnson, until recently an exposition guard, have been damaged to and Lodge of Elks. He is survived by son, Albert C. Gallard, and a married daughter, Mrs. J. W. Smith. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the funeral home. The casket will be in view of the death and will arrive in Oakland for the funeral. Arrangements for the ceremony are now being made.

Funeral services for Dr. Myra Knox, whose death last Sunday from cerebral hemorrhage ended a long career of prominence in Oakland, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. It is expected that Col. John P. Irish, a close friend of the late physician, will return from the east in time to attend the funeral.

The decedent, who served twelve years on the board of education of this city, and who was the first woman in California to win such an office, was a native of San Francisco and was born on the 20th of January, 1867. She died at the age of 58. She is survived by two daughters, Miss Bertha Knox and Miss

REFINERY EXPERT RETURNS.
MARTINEZ, Nov. 2.—Frank Klein, refinery expert of the Shell company.

NAS returned here from London to conduct the initial experiments in the operation of the new Trumbull stills at the local plant, which will make their first run of oils this week. Upon leaving the local plant last September, Klein started for Borneo, but was recalled upon his arrival in London to put the local plant in operation.

ANTIOCH CONSTABLE WEDS.
MARTINEZ, Nov. 2.—In the presence of a few intimate friends E. B. Whelihan, for many years constable of Antioch, was married to Miss Katherine Anne Doyle. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Hager and the couple were attended by Mrs. Arthur Senecand and J. W. Whelihan.

Roy S. Smith then made a statement of what the expansion movement meant to the city and citizens of Oakland, and asked all those present to enroll themselves either as captains or team workers. Practically every man that was there signed a card stating that he would do all in his power to aid the movement.

Other speakers were Postmaster Joseph Rosborough, H. A. Mosier of the Central National Bank, D. E. Perkins, O. E. Hotie and W. K. Cole, vice-president of the Oakland Bank of Savings.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once and that is to dissolve it, then to destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring: use enough

To moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single skin trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

FAIR GUARD TO SUE
DIPLOMAT FOR $25,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The sensibilities of M. Johnson, until recently an exposition guard, have been damaged to the extent of $25,000 by Mirza Ali Kuli Kahn, commissioner-general to the exposition from Persia, according to a complaint drawn up yesterday and which will be filed in the superior court tomorrow.

The suit is the result of an incident that took place in the doorway of the machinery palace on October 15, when Johnson, much to the commissioner-general's indignation, insisted on rigidly inspecting a suitcase which the Persian commissioner-general and several Persian attachés were carrying from the building.

Johnson alleges that at that time Mirza Ali Kuli Kahn falsely and maliciously and in the presence of other persons accused him of being drunk, and called him a crazy drunkard and other opprobrious names.

BANKRUPTCY RULES AMENDED.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Rules governing bankruptcy procedure throughout the United States were amended by the Supreme Court of the United States so as to permit any one connected with a corporation to make affidavit to accompany the claims by the corporation against bankrupts. Hitherto only the treasurer could make such affidavit and because of inconvenience to incorporations not having a treasurer, the court was prevailed upon to exercise its power to amend the
